Remember upon the conduct of each depends the fate of all.

- Alexander The Great

In faith and hope the world will disagree, But all mankind's concern is charity.

- Alexander The Great

There is nothing impossible to him who will try.

- Alexander The Great

The greatest sweetener of human life is Friendship. To raise this to the highest pitch of enjoyment, is a secret which but few discover.

- Addison, Joseph

A faithful friend is the medicine of life.

- Apocrypha

I keep my friends as misers do their treasure, because, of all the things granted us by wisdom, none is greater or better than friendship.

- Aretino, Pietro

Without friends no one would choose to live.

- Aristotle

A true friend is one soul in two bodies.

- Aristotle

To the query, What is a friend? his reply was A single soul dwelling in two bodies.

- Aristotle

In poverty and other misfortunes of life, true friends are a sure refuge. The young they keep out of mischief; to the old they are a comfort and aid in their weakness, and those in the prime of life they incite to noble deeds.

- Aristotle

Friendship is essentially a partnership.

- Aristotle

Friendship is composed of a single soul inhabiting two bodies.

- Aristotle

What is a friend? A single soul dwelling in two bodies.

- Aristotle

The two qualities which chiefly inspire regard and affection [Are] that a thing is your own and that it is your only one.

- Aristotle

Most people would rather give than get affection.

- Aristotle

Dignity consists not in possessing honors, but in the consciousness that we deserve them.

- Aristotle

What it lies in our power to do, it lies in our power not to do.

- Aristotle

Education is the best provision for old age.

- Aristotle

The educated differ from the uneducated as much as the living from the dead.

- Aristotle

The roots of education are bitter, but the fruit is sweet.

- Aristotle

Those who educate children well are more to be honored than they who produce them; for these only gave them life, those the art of living well.

- Aristotle

Education is an ornament in prosperity and a refuge in adversity.

- Aristotle

All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth.

- Aristotle

Equality consists in the same treatment of similar persons.

- Aristotle

No notice is taken of a little evil, but when it increases it strikes the eye.

- Aristotle

Excellence is an art won by training and habituation. We do not act rightly because we have virtue or excellence, but we rather have those because we have acted rightly. We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act but a habit.

- Aristotle

It is the mark of an instructed mind to rest satisfied with the degree of precision which the nature of the subject admits and not to seek exactness when only an approximation of the truth is possible.

- Aristotle

Without friends, no one would want to live, even if he had all other goods.

- Aristotle

Man is a goal seeking animal. His life only has meaning if he is reaching out and striving for his goals.

- Aristotle

First, have a definite, clear practical ideal; a goal, an objective. Second, have the necessary means to achieve your ends; wisdom, money, materials, and methods. Third, adjust all your means to that end.

- Aristotle

Happiness depends upon ourselves.

- Aristotle

Hope is a waking dream.

- Aristotle

At his best, man is the noblest of all animals; separated from law and justice he is the worst.

- Aristotle

Anyone can become angry -- that is easy. But to be angry with the right person, to the right degree, at the right time, for the right purpose, and in the right way -- this is not easy.

- Aristotle

Wicked men obey from fear; good men, from love.

- Aristotle

Moral excellence comes about as a result of habit. We become just by doing just acts, temperate by doing temperate acts, brave by doing brave acts.

- Aristotle

The moral virtues, then, are produced in us neither by nature nor against nature. Nature, indeed, prepares in us the ground for their reception, but their complete formation is the product of habit.

- Aristotle

I count him braver who overcomes his desires than him who conquers his enemies; for the hardest victory is over self.

- Aristotle

We become just by performing just action, temperate by performing temperate actions, brave by performing brave action.

- Aristotle

Dignity does not consist in possessing honors, but in deserving them.

- Aristotle

Character is that which reveals moral purpose, exposing the class of things a man chooses or avoids.

- Aristotle

The one exclusive sign of thorough knowledge is the power of teaching.

- Aristotle

The least initial deviation from the truth is multiplied later a thousandfold.

- Aristotle

All virtue is summed up in dealing justly.

- Aristotle

To write well, express yourself like common people, but think like a wise man. Or, think as wise men do, but speak as the common people do.

- Aristotle

The ideal man bears the accidents of life with dignity and grace, making the best of circumstances.

- Aristotle

It is easy to fly into a passion... anybody can do that, but to be angry with the right person to the right extent and at the right time and in the right way that is not easy.

- Aristotle

The beauty of the soul shines out when a man bears with composure one heavy mischance after another, not because he does not feel them, but because he is a man of high and heroic temper.

- Aristotle

In my end is my beginning.

- Stuart, Mary

God's finger touched him and he slept.

- Tennyson, Lord Alfred
