To keep the heart unwrinkled, to be hopeful, kindly, cheerful, reverent that is to triumph over old age.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.

They fail, and they alone, who have not striven.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.

The ocean moans over dead men's bones.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.

Books that have become classics -- books that have had their day and now get more praise than perusal -- always remind me of retired colonels and majors and captains who, having reached the age limit, find themselves retired on half pay.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.

The man who suspects his own tediousness is yet to be born.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.

Gracious to all, to none subservient, Without offense he spoke the word he meant.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.

Civilization is the lamb's skin in which barbarism masquerades.

- Aldrich, Thomas B.
