Neither in this world nor elsewhere is there any happiness in store for him who always doubts.

- Bhagavad Gita

Whatever I am offered in devotion with a pure heart -- a leaf, a flower, fruit, or water -- I accept with joy.

- Bhagavad Gita

O Krishna, the stillness of divine union which you describe is beyond my comprehension. How can the mind, which is so restless, attain lasting peace? Krishna, the mind is restless, turbulent, powerful, violent; trying to control it is like trying to tame the wind.

- Bhagavad Gita

Better indeed is knowledge than mechanical practice. Better than knowledge is meditation. But better still is surrender of attachment to results, because there follows immediate peace.

- Bhagavad Gita

Whatever you do, make it an offering to me -- the food you eat, the sacrifices you make, the help you give, even your suffering.

- Bhagavad Gita

Still your mind in me, still yourself in me, and without a doubt you shall be united with me, Lord of Love, dwelling in your heart.

- Bhagavad Gita

Little by little, through patience and repeated effort, the mind will become stilled in the Self.

- Bhagavad Gita

To the illumined man or woman, a clod of dirt, a stone, and gold are the same.

- Bhagavad Gita

As person abandons worn-out  clothes and acquires new ones, so when the body is worn out a new one is acquired by the Self, who lives within.

- Bhagavad Gita

Living creatures are nourished by food, and food is nourished by rain; rain itself is the water of life, which comes from selfless worship and service.

- Bhagavad Gita

The body is mortal, but the person dwelling in the body is immortal and immeasurable.

- Bhagavad Gita

Even as a tortoise draws in its limbs, the wise can draw in their senses at will.

- Bhagavad Gita

What is work and what is not work are questions that perplex the wisest of men.

- Bhagavad Gita

A man's own self is his friend. A man's own self is his foe.

- Bhagavad Gita

But they for whom I am the supreme goal, who do all work renouncing self for me and meditate on me with single-hearted devotion, these I will swiftly rescue from death's vast sea, for their consciousness has entered into me.

- Bhagavad Gita

It is better to do thine own duty, however lacking in merit, than to do that of another, even though efficiently. It is better to die doing one's own duty, for to do the duty of another is fraught with danger.

- Bhagavad Gita

Death is as sure for that which is born, as birth is for that which is dead. Therefore grieve not for what is inevitable.

- Bhagavad Gita

Concentrated power is not rendered harmless by the good intentions of those who create it.

- Friedman, Milton

A wise man learns more from his enemies than a fool from his friends.

- Gracian, Baltasar

Even if you are on the right track, you will get run over if you just sit there.

- Rogers, Will

When you feel good about yourself, others will feel good about you, too.

- Steinfeld, Jake

The results you achieve will be in direct proportion to the effort you apply.

- Waitley, Denis

Prosperity depends more on wanting what you have than having what you want.

- Abert, Geoffrey F.

No duty is more urgent than that of returning thanks.

- Ambrose, St.

When I'm not thanked at all, I'm thanked enough, I've done my duty, and I've done no more.

- Fielding, Henry
