Somewhere along the line of development we discover what we really are, and then we make our real decision for which we are responsible. Make that decision primarily for yourself because you can never really live anyone else's life, not even your own child's.

- Roosevelt, Eleanor

I think somehow we learn who we really are and then we live with that decision.

- Roosevelt, Eleanor

The reason that fiction is more interesting than any other form of literature, to those who really like to study people, is that in fiction the author can really tell the truth without humiliating himself.

- Roosevelt, Eleanor

Learn from the mistakes of others, you can't live long enough to make them all yourself.

- Roosevelt, Eleanor

Just because you like my stuff doesn't mean I owe you anything.

- Dylan, Bob

Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few.

- Churchill, Winston

It's the heart afraid of breaking that never learns to dance.

- Midler, Bette

Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover.

- Twain, Mark

It is impossible to walk rapidly and be unhappy.

- Murphy, Dr. Howard

The smallest seed of faith is better than the largest fruit of happiness.

- Thoreau, Henry David
