Look, we're all the same; a man is a fourteen-room house --in the bedroom he's asleep with his intelligent wife, in the living-room he's rolling around with some bareass girl, in the library he's paying his taxes, in the yard he's raising tomatoes, and in the cellar he's making a bomb to blow it all up.

- Miller, Arthur

Democracy don't rule the world, you better get that in your head; this world is ruled by violence, but I guess that's better left unsaid.

- Dylan, Bob

All this talk about equality. The only thing people really have in common is that they are all going to die.

- Dylan, Bob

Although the masters make the rules for the wise men and the fools got nothing, Ma, to live up to.

- Dylan, Bob

This land is your land and this land is my land, sure, but the world is run by those that never listen to music anyway.

- Dylan, Bob

He who is not busy being born is busy dying.

- Dylan, Bob

For them that think death's honesty won't fall upon them naturally life sometimes must get lonely.

- Dylan, Bob

Money doesn't talk, it swears.

- Dylan, Bob

I am against nature. I don't dig nature at all. I think nature is very unnatural. I think the truly natural things are dreams, which nature can't touch with decay.

- Dylan, Bob

Ah, but I was so much older then, I'm younger than that now.

- Dylan, Bob

People seldom do what they believe in. They do what is convenient, then repent.

- Dylan, Bob
