Quotes by Galeano, Eduardo

from QuotationsBook.com

Eduardo Hughes Galeano (born September 3, 1940) is an Uruguayan journalist whose books have been translated into many languages. His works transcend orthodox genres, combining documentary, fiction, journalism, political analysis, and history. The author himself has denied that he is a historian: "I'm a writer obsessed with remembering, with remembering the past of America above all and above all that of Latin America, intimate land condemned to amnesia."

We are all mortal until the first kiss and the second glass of wine.

- Galeano, Eduardo

The walls are the publishers of the poor.
