The regeneration of society is the regeneration of society by individual education.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

The first day one is a guest, the second a burden, and the third a pest.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

Liberality consists less in giving a great deal than in gifts well-timed.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

A slave has but one master. An ambition man, has as many as there are people who helped him get his fortune.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

I would not like to see a person who is sober, moderate, chaste and just say that there is no God. They would speak disinterestedly at least, but such a person is not to be found.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

A position of eminence makes a great person greater and a small person less.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

The passion of hatred is so long lived and so obstinate a malady that the surest sign of death in a sick person is their desire for reconciliation.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

One should never risk a joke, even of the mildest and most unexceptional charters, except among people of culture and wit.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

Avoid lawsuits beyond all things; they pervert your conscience, impair your health, and dissipate your property.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

The court is like a palace of marble; it's composed of people very hard and very polished.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

They that have lived a single day have lived an age.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

There are three stages in a person's life, birth, their life and death. They are not conscious of birth submit to death and forget to live.

- La Bruyere, Jean De

If our life is unhappy it is painful to bear; if it is happy it is horrible to lose, So the one is pretty equal to the other.
