Jawaharlal Nehru (November 14, 1889 – May 27, 1964), also called Pandit ('Scholar, Teacher') Nehru, was one of the most important leaders of the Indian Independence Movement and the Indian National Congress, and became the first Prime Minister of India when India won its independence on August 15, 1947.

It is only too easy to make suggestions and later try to escape the consequences of what we say.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Those who are prepared to die for any cause are seldom defeated.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Facts are facts and will not disappear on account of your likes.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Failure comes only when we forget our ideals and objectives and principles.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

There is perhaps nothing so bad and so dangerous in life as fear.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

The purely agitation attitude is not good enough for a detailed consideration of a subject.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

The man who has gotten everything he wants is all in favor of peace and order.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

What we need is a generation of peace.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

A theory must be tempered with reality.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

The policy of being too cautious is the greatest risk of all.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Great causes and little men go ill together.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Time is not measured by the passing of years, but by what one does, what one feels and what one achieves.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

The person who talks most of his own virtue is often the least virtuous.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Life is like a game of cards. The hand that is dealt you represents determinism; the way you play it is free will.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Action itself, so long as I am convinced that it is right action, gives me satisfaction.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Action to be effective must be directed to clearly conceived ends.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

We live in a wonderful world that is full of beauty, charm and adventure. There is no end to the adventures that we can have if only we seek them with our eyes open.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Every little thing counts in a crisis.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Crises and deadlocks when they occur have at least this advantage, that they force us to think.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

Culture is the widening of the mind and of the spirit.

- Nehru, Jawaharlal

The person who runs away exposes himself to that very danger more than a person who sits quietly.
