Words are easy, like the wind; Faithful friends are hard to find.
- Shakespeare, William
A friend is one that knows you as you are, understands where you have been, accepts what you have become, and still, gently allows you to grow.
- Shakespeare, William
Honesty is the best policy. If I lose mine honor, I lose myself.
- Shakespeare, William
But thy eternal summer shall not fade.
- Shakespeare, William
- Shakespeare, William
Let never day nor night unhallowed pass, but still remember what the Lord hath done.
- Shakespeare, William
A miser grows rich by seeming poor. An extravagant man grows poor by seeming rich.
- Shakespeare, William

The object of art is to give life a shape. [Midsummer Nights Dream]
- Shakespeare, William

This above all: to thine own self be true, And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou canst not then be false to any man.

- Shakespeare, William

To me, fair friend, you never can be old. For as you were when first your eye I eyed. Such seems your beauty still.

- Shakespeare, William

Thought is free.

- Shakespeare, William

All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players: they have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts. His acts being seven ages.

- Shakespeare, William
