Quotes about Dullness

from QuotationsBook.com

Authors have established it as a kind of rule, that a man ought to be dull sometimes; as the most severe reader makes allowances for many rests and nodding-places in a voluminous writer.

- Addison, Joseph

There is no such thing on earth as an uninteresting subject; the only thing that can exist is an uninterested person.

- Chesterton, Gilbert K.

Prudent dullness marked him for a mayor.

- Churchill, Charles

What can he mean by coming among us? He is not only dull himself, but the cause of dullness in others.

- Foote, Samuel

What a comfort a dull but kindly person is, to be sure, at times! A ground-glass shade over a gas-lamp does not bring more solace to our dazzled eyes than such a one to our minds.

- Holmes, Oliver Wendell

Sir, he was dull in company, dull in his closet, dull everywhere. He was dull in a new way, and that made many people think him great.

- Johnson, Samuel

It is to be noted that when any part of this paper appears dull there is a design in it.

- Steele, Sir Richard

Dullness is the coming of age of seriousness.

- Wilde, Oscar
