

Say Hello to your very own book of Quotes

QuotationsBook

Quotes by Al Capp

from QuotationsBook.com

Al Capp (September 28, 1909 November 5, 1979) was a Jewish American cartoonist best known for the satiric comic strip, Li'l Abner. He also wrote the comic strips Abbie and Slat and Long Sam. His given name was Alfred Gerald Caplin. He won the 1947 National Cartoonist Society Reuben Award for the comic strip Li'l Abner, and their 1979 Elzie Segar Award posthumously.

Young people should be helped, sheltered, ignored, and clubbed if necessary.

-Al Capp

Abstract Art: A product of the untalented, sold by the unprincipled to the utterly bewildered.

-Al Capp

QuotationsBook