Say Hello to your very own book of Quotes

Quotes on internalization from QuotationsBook.com

Internalization. This occurs when you've exploited impact, when you've molded the standard material to your needs and made it yours, when you've made your new skills strong through hard use. All of a sudden these new concepts stopped churning within you, and a new reality is born: You and the concepts are one. They have literally become you. You have become them.

-Tom Hopkins

